

Volunteer in Peru

The Colour of Hope Volunteer ProgramThe Colour of Hope offers excellent volunteer opportunities in Peru. Charity volunteers are able to choose between a range of activities, including teaching English, maths, computer and IT skills, holding art & drama workshops, running sports sessions and organising other positive activities for young people. They are also able to play a vital role of talking to and befriending our young people. This is an important element of the work because it helps the young adults to feel cared for and to gain confidence in themselves. If you're interested in finding out more about charity volunteering in Lima, please contact us. Travelling to PeruOf course, volunteer work isn't the only thing you can do in Peru. Whilst you're here you must also take advantage of the opportunity to travel - hike into the Andes and visit Machu Picchu, take a jungle tour to the Amazon rainforest, fly over the mysterious Nazca Lines and really get a feel for this amazing country. Local saying, "El Perú lo tiene todo" (Peru has everything) isn't far from the truth. The country boasts some of the richest cultural heritage, most beautiful landscapes and diverse wildlife on the planet. Volunteer in Peru and get the chance to experience all this first hand.